Subject: DRAFT rule and regulatory report for water quality standards triennial review

Good afternoon,

Several water quality standards workgroup participants have asked about the status of the numeric nutrient criteria rulemaking and have asked for copies of the current documents.

Development of these criteria is part of the water quality standards triennial review currently underway. Attached please find a pre-public notice courtesy copy of the rulemaking documents for the pending water quality standards review. This rulemaking is currently in interagency review pursuant to Executive Order which requires DNR to share its proposed rules with the departments of Economic Development, Health, Conservation and Agriculture prior to filing.

You are receiving this document because you have actively participated in the numeric nutrient criteria discussions and/or signed the attendance sheet (and included your email) at the October 5, 2015 meeting where the proposal was first presented to the water quality standards workgroup. As an known interested party, you are being provided these documents in advance of the formal public notice. Any comments you provide on these documents will not become part of the formal rulemaking record because this is not the formal public notice period. If you wish to comment on the record, please be sure to submit comments during the formal public notice period. We anticipate placing the final versions of these documents on public notice in the near future, which will begin the formal public comment period. Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions or concerns.

Sincerely,
